

PS1.228

Primary care services delivered through the Royal Flying Doctor Service, Victoria - going to the people

Morton Rawlin

Medical Director, Royal Flying Doctor Service Victoria, Vice President, RACGP, Associate Professor - University of Sidney, Australia

Corresponding author: Associate Professore Morton Rawlin, Royal Flying Doctor Service Victoria, Medical Director, Richmond, Australia. E-mail: Morton.rawlin@rfdsvic.com.au

This presentation will detail the work of the RFDS Victoria in its disseminated approach to delivery of services to communities in Victoria where services are lacking. Programs include providing female practitioners to areas where female practitioners are not available to the community, telehealth consultation programs in specific illnesses preventative and treatment dental services, education and training to under serviced and rural communities, health screening programs and mental health services for community and individual resilience.